The Garden Series with George Weigel

Gardens of Annapolis Friday, June 11, 2010

Patriot-News garden columnist George Weigel will be on board to talk gardening and answer questions on the way to and from these outstanding gardens.

- 6:00 AM Depart Colonial Park Mall Pole #27, by Boscov's, Harrisburg
- 6:30 AM Depart Weis Markets Simpson Ferry Rd., Mechanicsburg
Fast food stop en route – on your own
- 10:00 AM William Paca House & Garden Guided Tour
The William Paca Garden is a two-acre oasis of natural beauty and artful elegance in the heart of historic Annapolis. The pleasure garden was laid out by Paca while he built his house during the 1760s. Multi-tier terraces define the garden. The upper terrace provides a space for entertaining and viewing the garden terrain. On the middle terrace, precise geometric parterres show off three seasons of colorful blooms, heirloom roses, and period-styled topiary. The lower terraces feature a fish-shaped pond whose bridge leads to a two-story summer house, serpentine paths through lush lawns and beds of native plants.
- 11:30 PM Lunch included at The Chart House
- 1:30 PM Helen Avalynne Tawes Garden Guided Tour. Representations of the state's various geographic areas are featured in this five-acre garden. They include a Western Maryland forest, a streamside environment and an Eastern Shore peninsula.
- 3:00 PM Historic Lontontown & Gardens Guided Tour. Experience a diverse horticultural experience, including Woodland, Ornamental, Environmental, and Historical Gardens. The gardens represent the culmination of hundreds of years of global discovery, trade and experimentation.
- 4:30 PM Homestead Gardens. A visit to Homestead Gardens is not just another shopping trip—it's an experience. Stroll the landscaped grounds for design ideas, explore the garden center for the perfect item to complement your home. Enjoy 15% discount coupons for purchases
